FR FLOR LYNCH CSSp RIP

We regret to announce the death of Fr Flor Lynch CSSp who died peacefully in Marian House, Kimmage, on 26 July 2010. Fr Flor was born in Kerry and was ordained to the priesthood on 12 July 1959. After many years on the Missions, he returned to Ireland and was appointed as curate to Greenhills Parish in 1980 and remained with us until 1990 when he was transferred to River Valley, Swords. In 1996 Fr Flor was transferred to St Philomena's Parish, Palmerstown. He retired as Parish Priest there in August 2009. Fr Flor started our Parish Lourdes Pilgrimages which has continued as a very important Annual Event in our Parish to this day. We thank Mary Gahan who has taken on the role as co ordinator of the Pilgrimage.

We offer our deepest sympathies to Fr Flor's family, relatives, confreres and friends. May he rest in peace.

PATRICK KAVANAGH

In response to requests from a number of parishioners we are printing below quotations used by Fr. Healy in homilies during Mass on the past two Sundays.

That beautiful, beautiful, beautiful God / Was breathing his love by a cutaway bog. [The One]

I met with God the Father in the street / And the adjectives by which I would describe him are these / Amusing / Experimental / Irresponsible - / About frivolous things. / He was not a man who would be appointed to a Board / Nor impress a bishop / Or gathering of art lovers. / He was not splendid, fearsome or terrible / And yet was not insignificant. / This was my God who made the grass / And the sun, / This was the God I met in Dublin / As I wandered the unconscious streets.I knew him and was never afraid of death or damnation. [A View of God and the Devil]
